

The Water Environment

How can we leave a legacy and not a liability?

09.00: REGISTRATION

10.00: INTRODUCTION AND WELCOME

Professor Ian Barker, Managing Director, Water Policy International and Vice President Environment, Institute of Water

10.10: KEYNOTES: STRATEGIC OVERVIEW AND EXPECTATIONS

Government policy priorities for water

Dr Sebastian Catovsky, Deputy Director Water Services, Defra

Presentation

Rachel Fletcher, Chief Executive, Ofwat

Investing in Water - creating the framework for joint action

Harvey Bradshaw, Executive Director, Environment & Business, Environment Agency

Panel discussion/Q&A

11.30: BREAK

12.00: SKILLS WE NEED TO DELIVER FOR THE FUTURE

Skills we need to deliver for the future

Linda Williams, Director of Human Resources, Dwr Cymru Welsh Water

Sustainable training, recruitment and development in a competitive environment - the Z-Tech approach!

Luke Stanbridge, Commercial Director, Z-Tech Control Systems Ltd

12.50: LUNCH

Tweet us your photos of the day @InstWater

Institute of Water

13:50: THE GLOBAL CHALLENGE OF DIFFUSE POLLUTION

Policies to tackle diffuse sources of pollution: Examples from OECD countries

Hannah Leckie, Policy Analyst, OECD

14.20: LEAVING A LEGACY

The Multiple Benefits of Catchment Restoration

Professor Alastair Driver, Catchment Restoration Specialist

14.50: BREAK

15.10: LEAVING A LEGACY (CONTINUED)

CASE STUDIES:

Upstream Thinking: Managing the land to protect our rivers

Dr Holly Pearson, Evidence & Engagement Officer, Westcountry Rivers Trust

Future challenges for wastewater in Scotland

Ross Brand, Asset Planner, Scottish Water

Preparing for a drier future

Dr Manuela di Mauro, Water Lead, National Infrastructure Commission

Water for people and the environment

Paul Hickey, Deputy Director Water Resources, Environment Agency

16.30: EVENT CLOSE

Have you thought about becoming professionally registered?

For more information visit the Society for the Environment stand or ask one of our Environment Registrants.