ADVERTISING

The Institute of Water Magazine is mailed directly to over 2,500 Institute of Water Members and subscribers. Recipients include senior figures and decision makers at leading Water Utility organisations and their suppliers, contractors and regulators.

It is also distributed by email to all members and promoted heavily by a structured digital campaign via the Institute of Water's social media networks (circa 21,000 linkedin network and over 8,000 twitter followers) with a quickly growing digital readership of over 16,000 per quarterly edition.

Advertising in the Institute of Water Magazine offers you the opportunity to reach this unique audience in a number of different ways, each one designed to suit your business needs – from display advertisements to company profiles, right the way through to business card listings. Among the many benefits:

Prestige: A great way to project your company or product.

Profit: Brings your sales message to the most influential and significant buyers in the marketplace.

Information: Offers businesses and manufacturers the chance to give the market a clear explanation of the state of your business, which is of great importance to shareholders, customers and suppliers.

Introduction: Whether you are a new company or an existing and established business, there are always new opportunities and potential clients. The Institute of Water Magazine can help you reach them!

Brand Awareness: Builds on your strengths within the marketplace by either building on recognised branding or affirming your industry standing.

Confidence: Creates confidence among existing and potential customers.

Image: Projects your company to the wider sector/business community and enhances your reputation.
